The Dunas Golf Course is the first of two 18-hole championship layouts that is being built in one of the most stunningly landscape at Terras da Comporta.

Created over 84 hectares of natural, sandy terrain, the par-71 course is a true links, unique in Portugal.

The links-style layout is the first to be designed in mainland Europe by acclaimed golf architect David McLay-Kidd, whose other famous golf creations include Bandon Dunes, Queenwood, Beaverbrook, Machrihanish Dunes and the Castle Course at St. Andrews.

Dunas Golf Course has been expertly designed and manicured to provide a world-class golfing experience.

Features fairways sown with Festuca grass, providing a challenging playing atmosphere in the most spectacular setting. At 6.646 metres in length, the challenging course demands the highest level of concentration and accuracy.

There are six optional tees on each hole, a player can choose different game levels - enjoying a simple relaxing game or testing itself against the course as a professional.

Sustainability is one of the critical factors at Terras da Comporta. Golf was targeted with particular attention in this respect and has been built using the highest sustainable practices.

Among the measures taken to minimize the environmental impact and looking after its natural environment are the choice of native plants to nurture the surrounding wildlife and the implementation of a state-of-the-art computerized watering system supplied by treated domestic and/or industrial wastewater.

“Golfers yearn to play beautiful, natural, uncontrived courses, that’s why links golf is golf at its best, and Dunas is true links golf, unique in Portugal, unique throughout southern Europe. For golfers that know links, this will be a ‘must play’ golf course; for those that don’t, it will be a new experience, an awakening of what golf is meant to be.”

David McLay-Kidd
GOLF COURSE ARCHITECT

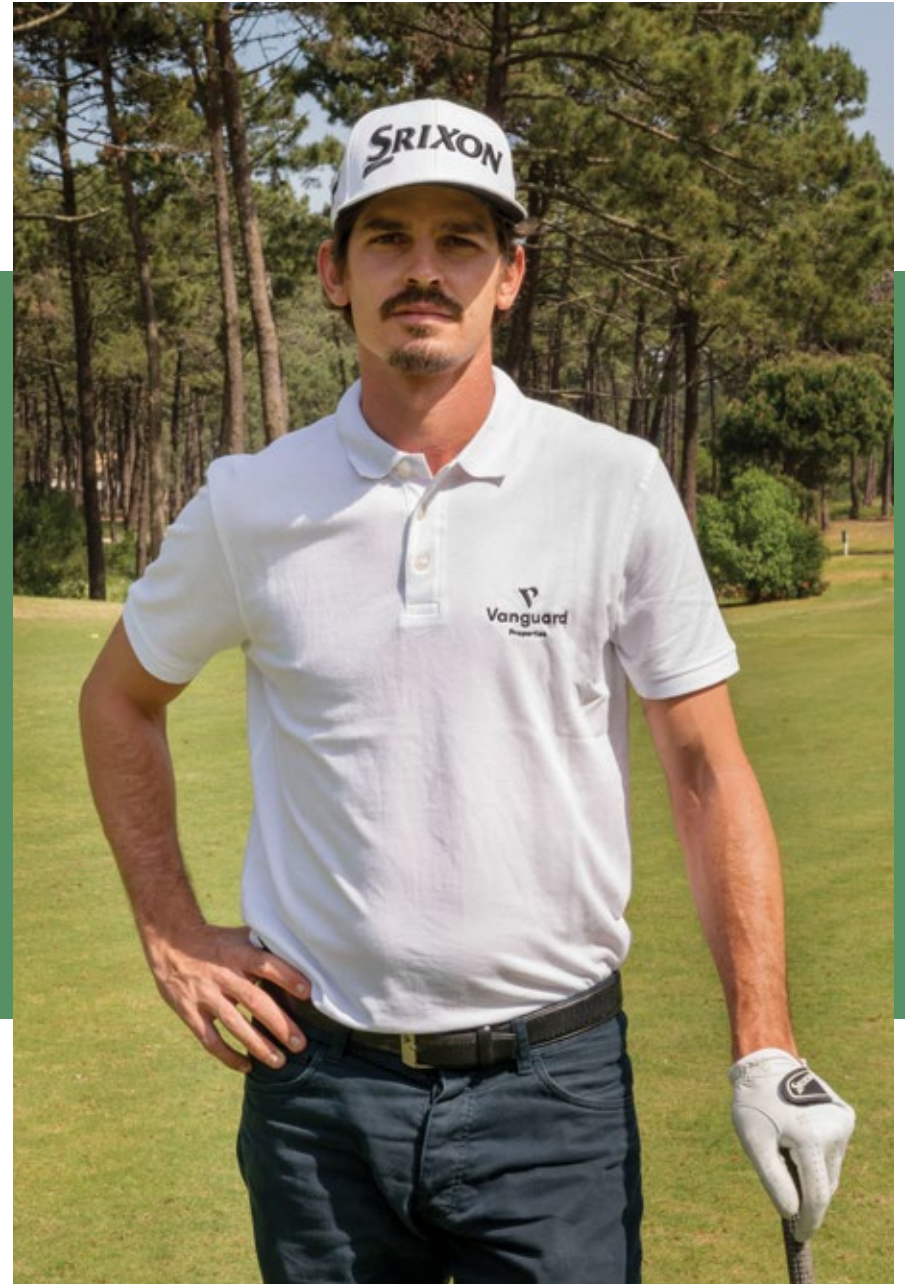

“Comporta Dunes is a special golf course. It is a true test for every golfer, where the surrounding dunes give it a links feeling and its modern design demands for a combination of power and accuracy. It is truly a great golf course situated in a unique location.”
